Dolbey is awarded contract with Alegent Health for its Speech Recognition and Transcription Solution

Concord, OH –Dolbey announced today that a contract has been signed with Alegent Health for its speech recognition and transcription solutions.

The sale included Dolbey's "background" speech recognition and transcription solution as well as its "front-end", editable speech recognition for Alegent's radiology department. Dolbey reports continued successes in its implementation of both speech recognition solutions in its current customers such as Borgess Health Alliance in Kalamazoo, Michigan and Marietta Hospital in Marietta, Ohio.

Fusion Speech™ is an enterprise-wide speech solution that supports a variety of medical disciplines. Fusion Speech provides accurate recognition of voice files created phone dictation, hand-held microphones and portable devices. Fusion Expert™ front-end speech recognition allows the physician self-editing of speech recognized documents, providing improved workflow in busy radiology environments. Dolbey's Fusion Text™ and Speech solution has been shown to dramatically reduce report turnaround time and costs.

Dolbey's Fusion Voice, Text and Speech suite of solutions provide an integrated approach to dictation and document creation and management. With scalable solutions, the Fusion product line meets the needs of small workgroups up to large, multi-site healthcare providers.
